

Sample data chart created in Excel

Before you make your chart, decide what information is important to display. Then, write a paragraph that explains your chart. Also write another paragraph that summarizes the rest of your group's conclusions.

Note: the numbers represented here are not real